Early/Middle College

Frequently Asked Questions

What is an Early/Middle College and what are the benefits?

- Rigorous 5 year high school program that combines both high school and college degree requirements
- Students can earn an associate degree or certificate along with their high school diploma
- Students are enrolled in a focused program of study
- Students have access to support services which enhance their success
- Tuition and fees are paid by the local school district up to an allocated amount

Why an Early/Middle College? Why should you consider it?

- EMC allows a student to complete their credential earlier than a 12th year graduate and to start their career path earlier
- Education beyond high school is more important than ever. Many careers require 1-2 years of post-secondary education.
- College costs continue to rise

What types of programs/degrees are available?

- Degrees in Associate of Applied Science (AAS)
AAS degrees are occupational in orientation and are designed to prepare graduates for immediate employment. They require successful completion of a minimum of 62 credit hours.
- Certificates (CERT)
Certificate programs prepare graduates for a specialized occupation. They require successful completion of 30 credit hours or more.
- Certificates of Achievement (COA)
COA programs require fewer courses than a regular certificate program providing training in a specific set of skills for employment in a specific occupation. They require successful completion of more than 3 but less than 30 hours of credit.
- Transfer Degrees in Associate of Arts (AA) or Associate of Science (AS)
AA or AS degrees are for students planning to transfer to a four-year college or university. They require successful completion of a minimum of 62 credit hours.
