

EFA Music Studio I

This class is designed for beginning music students who read music with low or no proficiency.

If you take this class you will:

- Develop basic skills in music theory and composition. Learn to read music and basic music theory (including note identification, key signature, and time signature).
- Learn basic music keyboard skills.
- Discuss great performances. You will encounter musical styles, composers and works that you have never heard before, and learn to respond to a variety of music with greater sensitivity and depth.
- Broaden your historical and cultural understanding of music. You will explore the connections between diverse time periods, styles, composers, and cultures, and their influences.
- Create music in solo and small ensemble settings using instruments, electronic media and recording.
- Share your compositions and evaluations publicly. You will have opportunities to present your compositions, research and experience to friends, family and invited guests.
