

EFA Digital Arts Blended Learning Classes:

If you take a Blended Learning class you will:

Work online and at a state-of-the-art media arts lab. All the blended learning classes meet 50% online and 50% at the EFA Epic Center Arts Technology lab. The online portion is approximately three hours a week and the “live” portion is one evening a week.

Become very proficient in industry standard image manipulation software. While you won't be an expert by any means (that takes years), you will have a very solid foundation.

If you take Digital StudioArt you will:

- Use computers to create and enhance illustrations.
- Learn the fundamentals of creating art with technology and enhance your drawing skills.
- Use these skills to create your own comics, cartoons, and digital artworks.

If you take Digital PhotoArt you will:

- Become a better photographer through projects in framing, composition, and the use of images to communicate.
- Learn how to use all the functions on professional grade digital cameras.
- Focus on how lighting can illuminate your photos' emotion, story and character.
- Produce dynamic portraits of people, places and things, capture sports action, and freeze-frame a micro-moment in time.

In both classes, you will come away with a digital portfolio of all the work you've created. You will be a more astute observer of digital media, will be very prepared to begin college-level study in design, digital media, photography, or any similar field (should you choose to do that), and will have an enormous sense of accomplishment.
